

LUXEMBOURG CENTRE FOR
LOGISTICS AND SUPPLY
CHAIN MANAGEMENT

MIT GLOBAL
SCALE NETWORK

Employment report & Recruiting guide LSCM class of 2018

The Luxembourg Centre for Logistics & supply chain Management is an initiative of the University of Luxembourg and of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology Center for Transportation & Logistics.

UNIVERSITÉ DU LUXEMBOURG

MIT Center for Transportation & Logistics

Class profile

Total Students	15
Women	53%
Countries	12
European Union citizens	33%
Non European Union citizens	66%

Average age at entry to LSCM	30
Median years full-time work experience	7

Compensation

BASE SALARY after graduation:
(66% provided usable salary data)

Median	55,000 €
Average	56,800 €

60% of graduates employed in Luxembourg

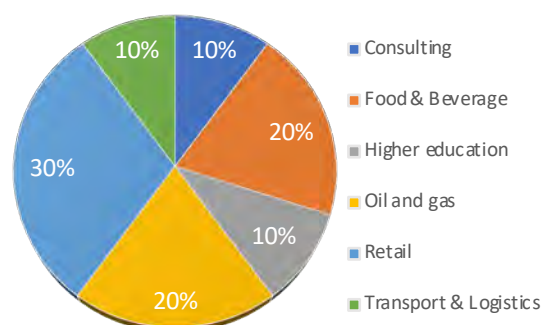

Most effective career service offerings

LSCM facilitated recruiting	66%
MIT SCALE network	20%
Online job postings (LinkedIn, social media, company websites...)	14%

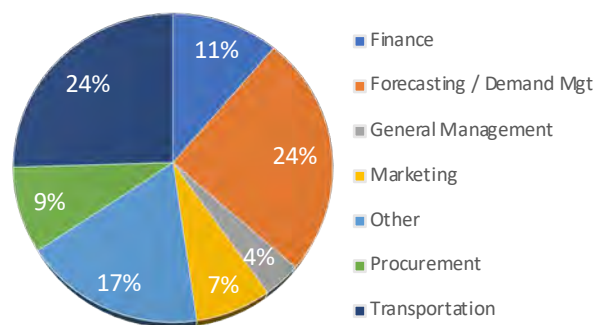

Job search

Offers accepted by industry:

Functional roles upon hire (time share):

Companies that recruited & partnered with the LCL

BIO-TECH & PHARMACEUTICALS

BASF

ENERGY

ExxonMobil

Equinor

FOOD & BEVERAGE

Ferrero

Unilever

HIGHER EDUCATION

University of Luxembourg

MANUFACTURING

Arcelor Mittal

IEE, Electronic sensors

RETAIL

Amazon

TELECOMMUNICATIONS

Vodafone

TRANSPORTATION & LOGISTICS

Cargolux

CFL, Chemins de Fer
Luxembourgeois

CH Robinson

Kühne + Nagel

POST Luxembourg

Transport Impact

Recruit MIT - Luxembourg's Supply Chain Mgt (LSCM) students

Companies are invited to recruit MIT - LCL's Logistics & Supply Chain Management students. The following information is available upon request as from September of each academic year for students in Luxembourg and SCALE (Supply Chain and Logistics Excellence network) programmes in USA, Spain, Malaysia, China, and Latin America (approx. 190 students):

- Student Profile Book: Contains student headshots, profiles and work histories
- CV Book: Available upon request.

RECRUITING CALENDAR

Mid-September: Presentations by partner companies sponsoring LSCM Master thesis projects.

September to June: Recruiting of LSCM students.

January: MIT SCALE students from Luxembourg, USA, Spain, Malaysia, China, and Latin America arrive at MIT. Open recruiting by appointment available for all MIT SCALE students.

May: Recruiting of LSCM students during the "Game of Jobs" organised by the University of Luxembourg

RECRUITING OPTIONS

CV drop: Hiring firm provides a job description and interested students submit their resumes.

In-house networking events: Industry seminars & eXplore annual industry conference including student poster session offer multiple opportunities to interact with potential employers.

Outside events: Various first-class supply chain events & company visits offer the chance to exchange with companies.

GET INVOLVED

Companies can sponsor Master Thesis projects and join the LCL community. This increases exposure to the students and can improve your recruiting effectiveness.

Learn about the Supply Chain Master Thesis Sponsorship & about our students, contact Joachim Arts, Study Director, lcl-master@uni.lu or +352 46 66 44 63 25

